Notes: This mare is well started and was an exciting prospect for the 2007 Cutting Futurities. However, she had a reaction to a splint injury that has ended her career as a cutter. According to our veterinarian, the splint formation is growing inward and pushing against the suspensory ligament. This is called a "Blind Splint". It has been injected and she is on 60 days of rehab which will end May 19th. After that she can go on as a pleasure horse or a trail horse, but not a cutter. If one still wanted a performance horse, our veterinarian has said that surgery is possible. This young mare is smart, athletic, has lots of cow, is good looking and very well bred. She would make a nice broodmare some day.
